

Worksheet 3.1 Categorizing Questions

Using “R” for “Right There,” “T” for “Think and Search,” “A” for “Author and You,” and “O” for “On My Own,” identify which type of question you are being asked and which Patterns to use when answering it. Use “S” for “Sequence,” “P” for “Precision,” “TR” for “Technical Reasoning,” and “C” for “Confluence.”

Type of
Question    Pattern

What were some causes of tragedies in the history of the American space program?

What arguments can be made for or against further national investment in space exploration?

Who was the first American to walk on the moon?

Who do you think was the bravest astronaut and why?

What have you learned about yourself as a critical thinker? Do you see yourself as intentional or haphazard?

Answers: 1. T; 2. A; 3. R; 4. O